Our Sanctuary Commitment
The Seven Commitments

The Sanctuary Model’s seven commitments outline the way that staff and clients agree to interact with one another:

Emotional Intelligence:
Managing feelings so we don’t hurt ourselves or others.

Social Responsibility
Agreeing to take care of ourselves and each other.

Social Learning
Respecting and sharing ideas and learning from each other.

Democracy
Everyone has a voice in decision making with input from all levels.

Non-violence
Physical, emotional, moral and social safety for ourselves and others.

Open Communications
Saying what we mean and not being mean when we say it.

Growth and Change
Overcoming negative patterns produced by trauma creates hope for a better future.
Sanctuary Language

Four concepts guide the way we work and speak with each other.

These concepts also organize the way clients heal and make progress in their lives.

Each letter in S.E.L.F. represents an important step in understanding and overcoming trauma:

S = Safety refers to physical, emotional, social and moral safety. These are the foundations for healing and growth.

E = Emotions focus on how we learn to identify, cope and manage with strong emotions related to our experiences. People who have experienced trauma often cannot identify how they feel. This is an important step to healing.

L = Loss refers to physical loss of a person, emotional loss such as a friend, spouse or family member, or loss of hope or trust. All change involves loss, and we cannot move toward the future without acknowledging and dealing with loss.

F = Future is adopting the belief that things can get better because we control our destiny.
Sanctuary Tools
We use tools every day to improve our quality of life. Sanctuary provides tools and activities to promote healing and build good habits for clients and staff.

Community Meetings
The first phase of trauma recovery is creating safety and positive emotional connections.

By asking three questions, community meetings help clients and staff label and verbalize their feelings, identify goals and make connections with others:
How are you feeling today?
What are your goals today?
Who can you ask for help?

Safety Plans
Every client and staff member creates, carries and uses a safety plan. These small cards outline simple things that we can do anywhere like taking a deep breath to handle stress, frustrations or anger.

Self-Care Plans
This plan helps balance the demands of life with the need for mental, spiritual, physical and emotional health. Clients and staff write a list of activities to practice regularly to achieve this balance.

Red Flag Meetings
Any client or staff member can call a red flag meeting to respond to a rising level of concern that the entire community must address. This meeting is solution-focused and includes a follow-up meeting to monitor success. This tool empowers staff and clients because it provides a process to give everyone an equal voice.
